SAYS F. D. R. TO SHUN 3RD TERM

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—(UP)—President Roosevelt will shun any opportunity for a third term, Collier's magazine said today.

In an article by George Creel, an associate of Mr. Roosevelt during the Wilson administration, the President is quoted as having told an intimate:

"On January 21, 1941, when a new president takes over, I will be in Hyde Park having the time of my life."

Creel declared the President is looking forward to "the establishment of a new social order that will retain every value of the old but at the same time will take courageous cognizance of the vast changes and the imperative needs evolved by these changes."

Crowd Greets F. D. R. In Buenos Aires

OPENS PEACE CONFERENCE ON TUESDAY

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 30.—(UP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, first president of the United States ever to set foot on Argentine soil, landed in flag-bedecked and festive Buenos Aires today to open the Inter-American Peace Conference, which he fathered.

Justo, Cabinet At Dock
President Augustin P. Justo and his entire cabinet were at the dock and greeted him warmly when he stepped ashore from the American cruiser Indianapolis, which had been escorted into port by a squadron of 15 Argentine warships.

Thousands of spectators had been waiting for hours under a hot summer sun to see Mr. Roosevelt and cheer him wildly in the great popular reception the nation ever has accorded a foreigner. Hundreds of thousands more—the police said the number might reach a million—lined the five-mile route from the north basin to the American embassy.

Planes Roar Overhead
Arrival of the Indianapolis and Mr. Roosevelt was heralded by the shrieking of ship sirens and whistles, and by airplanes roaring overhead.

Mr. Roosevelt came down the gangplank smiling. He shook hands warmly with President Justo and the members of his cabinet. It was a historic moment.

Witnessing it, in top hat and morn-

LABOR ASKS TO SHARE PROFITS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(UP)—Business expansion will end within a few years and depression will follow if wealth produced by the joint effort of American citizens is not distributed equitably among them, the American Federation of Labor warned today in its monthly business survey.

The survey noted "continued business gains in November and the highly favorable outlook now reported for 1937" which it said "point to a continuing increase in our national income."

The report cited a recent survey which, it said, showed that industry is equipped to produce a comfortable level of living for every American family.

"We know that unless the masses of our people," the bulletin said, "progress steadily toward that comfort-level by continual increases in their buying power, industrial growth cannot continue. For in no other way can we have a growing market for our products."

The federation referred in its report to November wage increases as a "step in the right direction."

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—(UP)—Charges that he had been threatened with death unless he "forgot" what he "knew" about Helen and Erwin Werner were made by James "Foghorn" Murphy today as trial of the Werners and Joseph Weinblatt on bribery conspiracy charges was resumed in superior court.

Murphy, a state's witness, went to the sheriff's office for a gun permit but was referred to the police department.

He said he received a telephone call Saturday from a man whose voice he recognized as one who had previously telephoned "veiled threats."

He said the man warned him: "If you do not suffer a lapse of memory on what you know about the Werners, Merle Templeton, liquor administrator, and Ray Edgar, member of the board of equalization, you will be taken for a ride."

FORMER GOVERNOR DIES
MUNISING, Mich., Nov. 30.—(UP)—Former Governor Fred W. Green, who served as Michigan's chief executive for two terms from 1927 to 1931, died today. He had been ill of a heart ailment since November 20.

12 INJURED IN S. F. CAR CRASH

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—(UP)—A dozen persons were hurt, eight cars and two trucks were smashed, and 300 feet of wreckage held up traffic for an hour today in a pile-up on Bayshore highway.

Dense Fog Blamed
Eye-witnesses said one car came to a stop on the highway, causing the others, coming in both directions with drivers blinded by dense fog, to smash into a long, tangled heap of wreckage.

The original car that caused the accident drove off, but its license number was obtained.

Seven Chinese WPA workers on a WPA bus carrying 16 workers to the San Francisco airport project were injured. Also injured were five Glendale residents in one automobile.

Automobiles Pile Up
Mrs. David Roehle of Glendale reported an automobile suddenly began to park on the highway.

The car in which she was riding plowed into it. In rapid succession the WPA truck, and other automobiles piled up, climaxed by a terrific jolt from the truck with trailer.

Highway patrolmen said the injured WPA workers were lying on the highway "like dead ducks" before ambulances arrived. They said a major catastrophe was averted only because the automobiles were traveling slowly in the fog.

COURT'S RULING ON CRAIG VACATED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—(UP)—State supreme court today vacated a former ruling which held that Associate Justice Gavin A. Craig of the Los Angeles branch of the district court of appeals was removed from office through unconstitutional means.

In vacating the ruling the court did not, however, reverse itself and did not set a date for a new hearing in the case.

Craig was removed from office during a trial and for the same offense was sentenced to serve one year in jail. He started serving the term this month.

His case became the center of state-wide controversy, however, when the supreme court today vacated the ruling which held that his removal was unconstitutional and that he would continue to draw his salary of $10,000 a year while in jail.

Sargas Prepares For Three Duels

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 30.—(UP)—Franz Sargas, Hungary's fire-eating duelist, said today he would fight three saber duels tomorrow morning.

Those challenged, whom he accuses of attributing mercenary motives to his marriage to his wealthy young wife, were Tibor Cally, bank employee; Dr. Gabor Dako, railroad official, and Elmer Losonca, cigar store dealer.

S. A. Council Gets Preble Resignation

Sam I. Preble, Santa Ana's building inspector for the past nine years, late today submitted his resignation to the city council, and will immediately assume new duties as superintendent of construction and foreman for Ray Russell, well-known contractor in Santa Ana for the past 20 years.

Contractor 15 Years
Preble, whose father, George Preble, was in the contracting business here from 1876 to 1925, 49 years, himself was in the contracting business for 15 years prior to taking over duties as head of the city's building department.

Contacted today for a statement regarding Preble's new duties, Contractor Russell declared: "Prospects for advancements in the building business are good with records showing that the building business is now on the upgrade. I felt the need for having a man of Mr. Preble's ability in my organization. With many years of experience in the contracting business, himself, and with nine years' experience as head of the building department, Mr. Preble, I feel, is as fine a man for the job as could be found."

Starts Work at Once
With offices at 218 West Third, Russell will continue with a general contracting business which includes all types of construction, residential, office or business building, as well as remodeling work. As superintendent, Preble will be in complete charge of all construction. His work begins at once.

City council has not yet decided upon Preble's successor, who will work at the city hall, along with Plumbing Inspector Harry O. Crowe and Electrical Inspector W. O. Packard. Preble resides at 1234 West Chestnut.

SEATTLE P.-I. IS PUBLISHED TODAY

SEATTLE, Nov. 30.—(UP)—The Seattle Post-Intelligencer made its appearance on Seattle streets today for the first time since Aug. 13, when a strike of American Newspaper Guild reporters caused the William Randolph Hearst paper to suspend operations.

Given new life by settlement of the walkout—in which the striking guildsmen were granted virtually all their demands—the morning paper's edition today carried 44 pages, compared to the usual Monday issue of 18-20 pages.

John Boettiger, son-in-law of President Roosevelt, will have complete charge of the paper in his capacity as publisher. Hearst said in a front page editorial.

PLYMOUTH PLANT CLOSED BY STRIKE

DETROIT, Nov. 30.—(UP)—The Plymouth Motor Car company's assembly plant, largest structure of its kind in the world, today ceased operations reportedly because of a shortage of working materials.

Closing of the plant in mid-afternoon came as union officials and heads of the Midland Steel corporation sought to end the sit-down strike at the steel plant, which provides Plymouth with many of the thousands of automobile frames required for daily production.

Police at the Plymouth plant said workers were advised materials were not available for continued assembly of motor cars.

PLANS FOR FLOOD CONTROL OUTLINED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—(UP)—A $75,000,000 5-year program of flood control construction for Los Angeles county was announced today by Herbert C. Legg, chairman of the flood control committee of the board of supervisors.

The government will appropriate $14,000,000 and the county $1,000,000 annually during each of the next five years to complete the program started two years ago.

REBELS DROP MORE BOMBS ON CAPITAL

Government Troops Report Advances in All Areas; Burgos in Danger

MADRID, Nov. 30.—(UP)—The insurgent forces, more on the defensive against the government troops than at any time since the siege of the capital started, heavily shelled the city today.

The bombardment of the Rosales and Moncloa districts was especially intense. The rumbling of cannon echoed throughout the city. Shrapnel shells could be seen exploding in the air.

Planes Over Capital
Five rebel planes flew over the capital this morning and dropped several bombs in the outskirts.

Madrid awaited thousands of fresh reinforcements today. A third international column, numbering several thousands of trained anti-Fascists from abroad, was expected during the day.

Moors On Way
It was reported also that a column of Moors, recruited by the Spain-Morocco society, was on its way to Madrid to face the Moors fighting on the Nationalist side.

Loyalist troops, though hampered by rain, continued on the offensive in all areas—in the Asturias country in the north, in Aragon in the northeast, in the Sigüenza section directly northeast of Madrid, in the Talavera area west of Madrid and in a fifth sector of great danger to the Nationalists, that of their "capital," Burgos.

KING, WALLIS WORRY CABINET

LONDON, Nov. 30.—(UP)—Sources usually acquainted with the cabinet's activities said today Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin has informed King Edward he can expect no support from government or parliament for a possible marriage to Mrs. Wallis Simpson.

This was reliably understood to be the "hit of two dramatic secret meetings which Baldwin had Friday, shortly after a surprise cabinet meeting. The first meeting was with Clement Atlee, labor party leader, the second with the king.

The government viewed the situation as so delicate that all reference to Baldwin's visit to the king was omitted from the court circular, which customarily records such visits automatically.

It was understood Baldwin's meeting with Atlee established a common front of conservative and labor parties on their attitude toward the friendship between the king and Mrs. Simpson, and left no doubt the friendship had precipitated one of the most serious constitutional crises of modern times.

Generally Britons do not object to the king's friendship with Mrs. Simpson, but they refuse to visualize the king divorced Mrs. Simpson as queen.

NEW CARBURETOR TESTED IN CANADA

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 30.—(UP)—A "mystery" carburetor which, its inventor claims, will enable an automobile to travel more than 200 miles on a gallon of gasoline, is being secretly tested here, it became known today.

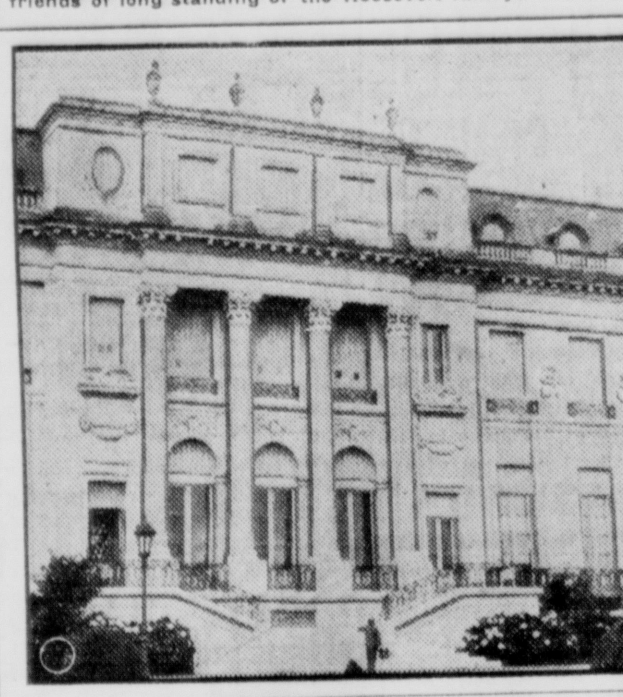

The inventor is Charles Nelson Pogue, 38, of Winnipeg, Man., and his backers include John E. Hammett, millionaire Canadian mine promoter.

W. D. Herridge, former Canadian minister to the United States, and a brother-in-law of former Canadian Premier Richard Bedford Bennett, is interested in the invention. He has arranged handling of world-wide patents.

Pogue, who until recently conducted his experiments at Winnipeg, claims he can stop up the carburetor to give 400 miles per gallon, but Hammett is counting, he says, on 200 miles per gallon, "at least for a start."

BUENOS AIRES HOME

The U. S. embassy building in Buenos Aires, Argentina, will be President Roosevelt's home during his brief stay for the opening of the Pan-American peace conference. PUBLIC FORUM IS CONTINUED

Although originally scheduled for discontinuation on February 1 the Orange County Public forum project is to be extended until the late spring, according to present plans of the United States Office of Education, it was learned today in a dispatch from Washington to The Register.

Ranks Close To Top
Chester Williams, director of the public forum projects for the office of education on his return to Washington from Santa Ana, said that in regard to community organization and attendance the Orange county project "ranks close to the top of the 10 projects now under way."

Because of the splendid success of the Orange county project in its first months of operation the government is planning to extend additional aid to local school authorities," Williams said.

Project Praised
The Orange county project is one of two organized on a county-wide basis. This was necessitated by the smallness of the local school districts. Up to the present time the project has in a large measure demonstrated the practicability of this type of an adult educational program.

"One of the outstanding features of the project in Orange county is the universal popularity which it enjoys. The forum meetings have met with the unanimous approval of practically all of the organizations within the county."

LIQUIDATION OF COMPANY SOUGHT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—(UP)—Immediate liquidation of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company of California was demanded today by Attorney William H. Nebbett in a court proposal which brought to four the number of plans submitted for the firm's rehabilitation.

Nebbett, counsel for one of the many divergent policyholder groups, attacked the reorganization plan of California's state insurance commissioner, Samuel L. Carpenter Jr., as a "proceeding in liquidation" under another name and described Carpenter's further efforts as conservator of the company as "futile."

YREKA, Calif., Nov. 30.—(UP)—Illness of the chief defense attorney who has handled their case since they surrendered, caused the postponement today of the trial of John and Coke Brite, Horse Creek prospectors accused of a triple slaying.

Superior Judge C. J. Luttrell and Prosecuting Attorney James M. Allen agreed that the Brite brothers were entitled to the "best possible" defense. The judge granted a week's postponement when informed that Horace F. Frye, Sacramento chief defense counsel, was too ill to appear.

The trial of one of wild Siskiyou county's most sensational cases will be started next Monday regardless of the condition of attorneys.

EXTRA MEN SENT TODAY TO DISTRICT

Fear Violence in County, As Drivers Decline to Handle Cargoes

Request for police guards for oil trucks scheduled to leave Huntington Beach oil fields was made today by the McCallen refinery when union truck drivers refused to move the contract oil.

Join State Wide Strike
The request was made to Huntington Beach police after the company had arranged to have the oil tankers moved by non-union drivers and in the face of violence that is looming along Orange county coast and Los Angeles harbor highways and union truck drivers joined the state-wide strike in sympathy with maritime workers.

Capt. Henry Meehan, head of the Orange county detail of the California Highway patrol, sent extra men today to patrol highways and prevent any attempts to halt trucks.

The Teamsters' and Chauffeurs' unions have been on strike for some time and attempts have been made to obtain co-operation of the union truck drivers.

Operators Warned
Yesterday oil operators in the Huntington Beach field were informed that, unless grievances of the maritime workers were settled or indications of a settlement given, all union truck drivers would walk out today in a sympathy strike.

This morning 50 union automobiles

FRANCE BACKS GREAT BRITAIN

PARIS, Nov. 30.—(UP)—France has decided to align herself solidly with Great Britain against any war aggressor and to back her decision with a $700,000,000 navy building program, it was learned today.

The government, adopting the new British policy of "preventive warning" to nations that might be tempted to strike, authorized Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos to announce in the chamber of deputies Friday that an aggression against Britain would cause immediate mobilization of the whole of France's land, air and naval strength. The same guarantee will apply to Belgium.

France's declaration is to be backed up, it was learned, by the introduction in parliament of a supplementary 15,000,000,000 franc ($700,000,000) navy program, on top of the gigantic navy, army and air force expenditures already envisaged.

It was a day of declarations of strength. In Moscow, Russia announced that its total of air force planes had reached 7000. At Goslar, in Germany, Hermann Goering, Germany's air minister, announced Germany was no longer so "weak" as she was in 1914.

50 Feminine CCC Camps Scheduled

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(UP)—Establishment of 50 feminine C.C.C. camps to provide jobs and vocational training for 5000 needy girls has been approved as a regular part of the government's work-relief program, officials said today. Immediate plans call for setting up work centers under the Works Progress administration in Rhode Island, Arkansas, Florida, Oklahoma, Missouri, South Dakota and Tennessee.

Director Richard R. Brown said sites already had been selected in most instances in abandoned C.C.C. barracks, vacant resorts, school buildings or other quarters W.P.A. can secure free of charge.

The girls will stay in the new camps for three or four month periods, receiving $5 cash a month from the government in addition to their subsistence and clothes. Each girl will cost the government about $39 a month.

Tomato Growers Demand "Fair Price" For Product

THREAT TO BE HURLED SOON TO CANNERIES

Tomato growers of Southern California soon will hurl a formal threat to establish cooperative canneries to obtain what they term a "fair price" for their product.

This was revealed today in the offices of the Orange County Farm Bureau with the return here of officials from a conference of a committee of the State Vegetable Growers' association Saturday in Chicago.

Movement Started
"There already is a definite movement under way to take this action," R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the county bureau, said this morning, "and unless it is possible for growers to obtain fair contracts, assuring them that a canner will take his crop at a just price, it is almost certain that cooperative canneries will be established."

Flaherty indicated he was voicing the consensus of the committee that met in Chicago, and attended by R. J. McFadden, of Placentia, state delegate for the No. 1 region that includes Orange and four other counties, W. N. Cory and Ross Crane, assistants from the office of Harold E. Wahlberg, county farm advisor; H. H. Gardner, local chairman of the avocado department, Mrs. H. H. Gardner, head of the home department of the Foothill Farm center, and Ned Clinton, chairman of the dairy department.

Flaherty said growers of the No. 1 region, embracing Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, Imperial and San Diego counties, last year obtained prices of from $12 to $15 a ton for tomatoes, with a general average of $14 a ton. He contrasted this with a report from an educational survey of the tomato market that showed canneries had realized net profits of from $20 to $30 a ton on tomato shipments.

Pays Growers $20 a Ton
Flaherty pointed out that the same difficulties were being faced by tomato growers in the Northern California regions, and that two cooperative canneries already had been established in that section. He said it was reported to the Chicago conference that one of the cooperative canneries was paying growers $20 a ton for tomatoes.

"It is certain that tomato growers this year will present a solid front in their fight for better prices," Flaherty declared, "and once this situation has been straightened out, we will be able to complete the adjustment of matters for other growers in the area."

The policies that were shaped at the Chicago parley will be laid first before the Canning Crops Conference of the American Farm Bureau Federation Dec. 5 at Pasadena, and then before the conference of the California Federation the following Monday.

THIEVES LACK BRAIN

CENTRAL FALLS, R. I. — The thieves who broke into the home of Joseph Kemich recently were "softies". Failing to open a heavy safe, they attempted to carry it from the house, but were not strong enough. They moved the safe from the living room to the kitchen and there abandoned it.

Defunct Bank At Beach Pays Dividend

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 30.—Former depositors in the defunct First State bank of this city are receiving checks in the mail for a five per cent dividend on their deposits. Savings department depositors who filed their claims early are getting a total of 75 per cent of their deposits back with the present payment. It is expected that those who failed to get their claims filed and did not get the first 40 per cent dividend claim in time, have received only 35 per cent of their deposits.

Commercial account depositors will receive, with the present checks, a total of 55 per cent of their deposits. There are considerable assets remaining and additional dividends will be paid as soon as the assets can be liquidated, according to statements issued by C. A. LeBree, special deputy in charge of liquidation.

Use of electricity in development of the poultry industry will be illustrated in a motion picture to be shown in the adult education night schools of Garden Grove and Fullerton.

The film is being shown by the Southern California Edison company, in co-operation with the Orange County Farm Bureau and will illustrate the advantages of electric brooders and incubators in raising poultry.

The first showing is scheduled for 7:15 o'clock tonight at the Garden Grove High school and will be repeated Wednesday night, December 18, at the Fullerton high school.

Leeks Decorations as Tribute to King Edward

"I like leeks," says King Edward VIII, looking somewhat hungrily at the archway of leeks erected in his honor (the vegetables are an emblem of Wales, of which he formerly was Prince) at a co-operative farm of the Welsh Land Settlement Society. So he ordered some sent to his residences. The occasion for his visit was a tour of inspection of the poverty-stricken mining regions of South Wales, where he assured throngs that cheered him he would do something about their situation if at all possible.

Two days later Kohr came back to the police station and confessed to Murphy that he had killed his brother, Henry, 35 years ago at Belleville, Ill. Henry's body was found 11 months later in a cistern. The coroner's jury returned an open verdict and Charles never was suspected.

Captain McKeen said today that his men would give the same protection to truck drivers through Orange county.

Officials of the Huntington Beach police department and protection for 14 truck loads of oil were scheduled to leave today and would be moved. They said that no trouble was expected until after the loaded trucks left the refinery.

Oil men in the Huntington Beach field have been informed by union truck drivers, it is claimed, that while the drivers have no grievance of their own, the statewide strike is a sympathy move to assist seamen and other maritime workers in their strike. The walk out of truck drivers would virtually tie up all transportation and may become nationwide, union men said. They also said that the union drivers will force all truckers not affiliated with the union to go out on strike with them.

Police Guard Trucks

Major oil companies today denied that union truck drivers employed by them had gone on strike this morning in spite of rumors that the drivers had approved the proposed walkout. Officials of one major company, however, did admit that their trucks were being operated under police protection.

The strike of truck drivers, it was pointed out today, would virtually shut down all operations in the recently opened east side oil field in Huntington Beach, where more than a score of new wells are being drilled and approximately 200 men are employed.

WAREHOUSEMEN WARNED OF NON-UNION CARGOES

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 30.—(UP)—San Diego longshoremen, unable to prevent the shipment of "hot" cargo by rail across the border from Mexican ports, today depended upon warehousemen in San Francisco and Los Angeles to refuse to unload the cars.

"Union warehousemen in Los Angeles and San Francisco will be warned of the 'hot' cargo and undoubtedly will refuse to unload it," P. H. Neary, secretary of the local chapter of the International Longshoremen's association, said.

Neary referred to a shipment of bananas unloaded at Ensenada from the Norwegian ship Laurits Swensen, taken to Tia Juana by truck and shipped into the United States by rail.

SMELTZER

SMELTZER, Nov. 30.—Dwane Moore, his sister Mrs. Muriel Hurst, and her small daughter, had the pleasure of spending the Thanksgiving holiday with absent members of the family, Miss Doris Moore who attended the John Brown school in Arkansas, and Dick Moore, who attended Mississippi University at Oxford in that state. The local party motored through just in time to reach their destination for the holiday, stopping in Arkansas to take Miss Doris Moore with them. The party will now go to Independence, Mo., where Mrs. Hurst will visit the Hurst family, while Dwane will go on to Detroit to purchase a new car for his father.

KEN Murray SAYS:

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—It's a lucky thing for Johnny "Tarzan" Weissmuller that he happened to pick out a naval officer, instead of Popeye the Sailorman, to take a sock at in that New York nightclub, the other evening.

While it is reported that Johnny had several aides in the fracas, from the number of stitches taken in his opponent's eye, Tarzan must have swung from the floor instead of his usual limb.

You know, I can't really blame the officer if he was surprised at what happened. The Navy thought the only Tarzan they had to worry about, was that "Monkey" Meyer on the Army team.

PETERKIN WILL CONTEST HELD TO BE NON-SUIT

Superior Judge H. G. Ames today granted a non-suit of the will contest in the $25,000 W. H. Peterkin estate at Orange, deciding that the disinherited children of the deceased had failed to establish the testamentary incapacity of their father.

The court, announcing its decision, commented that abnormal actions of the deceased had been shown, and that senile dementia had been established, but that proof of testamentary incapacity was lacking.

The case, accordingly will not go to the jury. Attorneys R. Y. Williams and Charles D. Swanner, representing the six contestants of the will, were said to be considering steps for another contest, since the court's ruling did not bar a new action.

The contestants are E. H. Peterkin, W. D. Peterkin and George Peterkin; Mrs. Mabel Baier, Mrs. May Riley and Mrs. Bertha Walden. Their father omitted them from his will, leaving his estate to a sister, cousin and a group of nieces and nephews, all residing outside of Orange county. N. T. Edwards and F. M. Guleck, of Orange, were named executors of the will, being represented in the court contest by Head, Wellington and Jacobs, Santa Ana law firm.

LAD STRICKEN WITH INSANITY ATTACKS MAN

Attacked by his own employe while sleeping in the cab of a truck, J. Wilk, Los Angeles truck operator is in the county hospital with serious head injuries.

He was found by the side of Manchester boulevard, one mile north of Anaheim, shortly before noon today by a motorist who rushed him to the Anaheim police station for first aid and later removed to the county hospital.

According to his story told to Deputy Sheriff Tom Murphree Jr. and A. W. Fullerton, Wilk hauls produce between Orange county and the Los Angeles markets. He was returning to Los Angeles when the attack took place.

Wilk said that he employed the youth, known to him only as "Johnny," about three weeks ago. On the trip back to Los Angeles this morning Wilk fell asleep and was awakened by the driver who was beating him about the face and head with a hammer. He said that he believed the boy had suddenly gone insane. Police and deputy sheriffs are looking for the boy and the truck.

MEXICAN ORDERED TO SERVE SENTENCE

Because Henry Mendez, 24, 515 1-2 Fairview, didn't seem fit to carry out orders of the court, as did his two companions, he is beginning a three-months term in county jail today, after conviction of disturbing the peace.

Several weeks ago, Judge Kenneth Morrison, Santa Ana justice court, ordered Mendez and his companions, Tony Morones and Isa Parra, both of Santa Ana, to pay $5 per month for two years—$120—upon conviction of disturbing the peace. Morones and Parra have been making payments regularly. Mendez hasn't. Judge Morrison ordered Mendez' arrest; then he sent him to jail for three months; after that time, Mendez must again begin making $5 monthly payments—for two years.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

THE BIG TROUBLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Major defect in the business picture now in building. The overdue boom in the construction industry has failed to materialize. The government has been spending a lot of money on it for three years, but has only succeeded in keeping it from complete breakdown. Private expenditures have not been stimulated to any extent comparable with the pre-depression era.

With general industrial production clicking along at 109 per cent of normal, building for November lags at about 85 per cent. It is the lowest of all the major trade barometers.

This is of tremendous importance because the bulk of unemployment now is in that industry. At least, in the absence of any real statistics concerning unemployment, most economists say it is in that industry. It means the current unemployment condition is not likely to be cured until the construction industry gets back into stride.

CAUSES

What has happened to the absent building boom is not a very deep mystery. For one thing, prices are high. That is, they are high in relation to wages and income. And there is not much chance that they will get any lower.

But that is not all. Other industries have not yet reached the point where plant expansions are necessary. Factory building for the last 10 months amounted to $161,000,000, which was good only by comparison with the $90,000,000 of the same period in 1935.

Commercial building for the same ten months' period amounted only to $203,000,000, and it was $140,000,000 for the same period last year. Office and store rents are not high enough and business prospects are not yet good enough to stimulate a general movement in commercial building.

Residential construction has done somewhat better. In the 10-month period it amounted to $669,000,000, as compared with $594,000,000 for the first 10 months of 1935.

CURES

But the demand for residential construction still exists, if the government surveys on the extent of the residential shortage are correct. Ample credit facilities exist. The present wave of wage increases and bonuses should, if continued, stimulate buying. Increases of the general price level during November tend to put the general price level more in conformity to building costs. All these factors suggest a continued steady improvement in the residential line.

Some slight sign of an increase in factory and commercial demand is discernible. The rayon industry, for one, has been running at capacity and is expected to increase its plant facilities. Increased earnings have also caused expectations of plant expansions in steel.

In the main, what is expected is a slow, smooth upward curve line, which may not reach pre-depression levels very soon. It is a problem which the government could probably help more.

by encouraging a national belief in the certainty of business expansion, high wages and prices, than by the artificial methods which have been attempted.

PROGRESS

Recognized national authorities have circulated information that the upward movement of building stopped in July and has not recovered since. This is not correct. The amount of contracts awarded each month since spring follows, in millions of dollars:

April 130, May 123, June 116, July 151, August 122, September 119, October 125.

Every building material line was up 2 1/2 per cent; pay rolls 5 per cent; employment in the industry was up 2 1/2 per cent; day rolls 5 per cent.

NOTES

Autos are figuring on a 10 per cent increase in sales next year. Some noted economists cannot see how it will develop, although there was great enthusiasm manifest at the shows.

A 10 per cent improvement in rail earnings next year is being more confidently predicted.

October production of autos was less than a year ago, but only because they got a slow start, due to model changes.

Practically all the lines of industrial production have continued strong, except lumber. It was tied up by the Pacific coast strike.

The Cleveland Trust company has made an interesting survey, showing Canada has regained 97 per cent of her depression losses while this country has regained only 70 per cent, although we tried a lot of fancy remedies and Canada did not.

SUIT FOR $15,400 IS STARTED TODAY

Hearing of the $15,400 damage suit filed by Captain and Mrs. Nelson M. Holderman, of Santa Ana and Napa, against the West Coast Santa Ana Theater Corporation, was expected to get under way late today before Superior Judge H. G. Ames, after a morning recess to permit examination of Mrs. Holderman by a physician, at the request of the defense, to ascertain her present condition following injuries received in a local theater.

The damage suit was based upon a leg injury received by the wife of the hero of the famous Lost Battalion, when she fell while walking to her seat in the Santa Ana theater February 23, 1935. She still walked with a limp today, as she appeared in court, with her husband and attorneys, E. Z. McKinney, of Santa Ana, and Wallace Rutherford, of Napa.

Captain Holderman, second in command of the famous Lost Battalion of the Argonne, now is commander of a veteran's home at Napa.

BEACH HOTELS RAIDED; SEVEN WOMEN JAILED

Raiding two hotels and a rooming house in Huntington Beach late Saturday night, at request, according to reports from the district attorney's office, of several private Huntington Beach citizens, seven women were arrested by sheriff's officers, Huntington Beach police, and two private detectives, and jailed on charges operating, residing in or working at places where immoral conduct is permitted.

It was reported on district attorney's files that the D. H. Betten detective agency, here, was employed to obtain evidence. Among the complaining witnesses, named in the arrest warrants, were D. H. Betten and his employee, M. C. Hall, and several sheriff's officers. Huntington Beach Officers Gall Burgey and Howard Rubidoux assisted Sheriff Logan Jackson and Deputy James Workman.

The women, named in the warrants, were Mrs. Agnes Radovinatz, 33, hotel proprietor; Miss Patsy Dunne, 23; Miss Shirley Russell, 23; Miss Geraldine South, 24; Miss Helen Scott, 22; Mrs. Genevieve Ward, 28, and Miss Virginia "Ginger" Myers, 24.

They probably will be arraigned today in Huntington Beach justice court.

CONSERVATION AGENTS MEET IN S. A. TODAY

Exact purposes of the federal government's Soil Conservation Survey, its future policy and the manner in which it coordinates with extension service in every county in Southern California, were being discussed today at a meeting in the Orange County Farm Bureau hall on North Main street.

The session, attended by more than 20 agents and their assistants, is expected to pave the way for the permanent adoption of many of the policies that have already been established by the survey in Orange and many other counties in this area.

Harold E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, was in charge of the conference, which is expected to last most of the day.

Prevention of the loss of crop soil through flooding and other dangers, will be emphasized as one of the main objectives of the general survey.

Police News

Epperly, Jr., 21, 822 South Philadelphia, Anaheim, and Andrew Uren, Jr., 25, Los Angeles, Saturday were ordered to county jail for terms of 75 days each. Lester Almer, Huntington Beach, was fined $1 for illegal parking.

Arrested at Sixteenth and Main streets and pronounced "moderately intoxicated" in a doctor's medical examination report, Mrs. Blanche Juden, 34, 510 Wellington street, Santa Ana, was booked at county jail on a drunk driving charge early yesterday morning. RECORD SALES ARE FORECAST FOR CHRISTMAS

Predictions that Christmas trade this year in Santa Ana and Orange county will break all volume records were confirmed today Philip M. Brown, secretary and manager of the Business Men's association.

"There are sufficient facts," declared Brown, "to support the statement that Christmas shoppers in this city and county will spend more than ever before on holiday merchandise. While we have no dollars and cents figures available at present, the general business conditions are so greatly improved and the employment situation so much better that there is no doubt there will be an unprecedented upturn in trade."

"An informal survey shows that retail stores will hire hundreds of extra workers throughout the county to handle the increased holiday trade volume."

Brown pointed out that he has figures to show that there has been a gain of about $3,000,000,000 in our national income for 1936 over that of 1935 and that the substantial dividend distributions resulting from the federal surtax on undivided profits, range from seven to 21 per cent.

"What holds good for the nation generally," Brown explained, "holds good for our locality, which has shown unusual improvement in all commercial circles during the last year. It is the influence of these very same factors that are doing such good throughout the nation, in our own locality that will result in a record holiday trade."

PEACE OFFICERS OF COUNTY WILL HEAR ADDRESS BY EDITOR

The story of a newspaper's publication will be told from the "inside" by Mason Yould, editor of The Register, at the regular meeting of the Orange County Peace Officers' association, to be held Wednesday evening at Sam's Seafoods cafe, in Seal Beach, it was announced today by George Franzen, police chief of Orange and president of the association.

"Yould will give us several interesting angles on how the newspaper cooperates with the law enforcement agencies and how the law enforcement agencies can and do cooperate with the newspaper publishers," President Franzen said. "Yould has had many years' experience in the news field and knows newspaper work from A to Z."

Chief Leo Howard of Seal Beach, host for the evening, has made arrangements for a good dinner of fish or steak, and will provide several acts of local entertainment for the dinner hour, President Franzen declared.

and give something really nice for the home

We don't think it's necessary to urge anyone to give home gifts this year. The tendency is already so strong that way. What we want to do is to make it as easy as possible to give GOOD things for the home. The difference in the monthly payments between a good piece of furniture and one at a lower price is hardly worth mentioning at our store. We carry our own contracts, can make any terms we please, and our gift to gift buyers this year will be terms they like! So, pay in 1937 for the home gifts you really want, and want to give!

Headed by Dr. Melbourne Mabey and other officers of the organization, a delegation of Santa Ana Kiwanis is making rapid progress today with plans to make a trip Wednesday to San Bernardino where they will be guests at the Wednesday noon luncheon meeting of that club. G. W. Lelie, secretary, announced that the usual skeleton meeting would be held here Wednesday noon for guests and the members who were unable to get away for the San Bernardino trip.

Meanwhile, the group was asked not to forget the meeting of all service clubs that will be held under auspices of the Anaheim Rotarians at 6:30 p. m., December 2. "Labor Conditions on the Pacific Coast," is the timely topic of an address that will be delivered at this time by F. R. Fysh, general manager of the Merchants and Manufacturers association of Los Angeles. Both men and women are invited to attend this session.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30.—In all my years, I have heard no story more poignant than that which George E. Stone's life unfolds. He was born in Russian Poland, a Jew. At the age of six he worked in a silk mill for five cents a week. I repeat, FIVE CENTS A WEEK! On his way home one night with this pittance clutched in his hand, he was cut down by the sword of a Cossack during a pogrom.

He spent the next ten days in a dark prison cell, a horrible wound in his head (he still bears the scar). Released, he crawled home, three miles, through snow and ice. His father (who had come to America) once sent the family a pineapple, such a delicacy that on Sundays each child was given a taste no larger than the end of your thumb. When the father at last saved enough money to bring his brood to America, smugglers took most of it to sneak them across the border. Even so, George's mother waded waist-deep through icy streams, carrying him on her shoulders. Worst break of all when they reached Ellis Island they were turned back because one sister had an eye disease. Back in Poland again, the mother died from the hardships of the journey. Later, the children made the trip alone.

Today, Stone's income is $50,000 annually. A few weeks ago I wrote of his contributions to boy scout organizations throughout the land. It was after reading my tribute to his kindness toward poor children that George told me, voice trembling, why he is ever ready to heed pleas of indigent youngsters. The "Why" is the story I have just given you.

Doubtless you will recall that Slim Sumner played a prominent role in the first picture with the Dionne Quintuplets. He is also cast in their second. Slim caught my coat lapel this noon to tell me that each week he receives hundreds of personal and mailed inquiries about the five babies. All of which makes him feel rather foolish, because he has never seen them. His sequences with the babes were all made on studio process stages.

EDUCATOR IS COLLECTOR OF COLLECTIONS

BY JOHN NEUBAUER

Although the government museum in on his forum racket with the formation of the Orange county federal forum series, Charles L. Ruby, the versatile Fullerton junior college law instructor, still has plenty of time to occupy his time.

Ruby conducted his weekly forum as a public service to the citizens of northern Orange county for nearly a decade until the government became a competitor and forced him to discontinue.

No longer are the heated political arguments, the interesting crime discussions, or vivid travel talks available. The government has chosen professors to expound these various subjects.

Ruby's general appearance betrays his inner nature. He is a common, homespun individual, who seems to take life as it comes. There isn't an idle moment in his day. He doesn't believe in wasting precious time. Ruby is a collector of collections.

While most folks are content with a single hobby, this brilliant tutor has a number of hobbies. The public forum was one, while the others run to collections.

He could have qualified as a top-notch philatelist had he not taken a fancy in his more fascinating collections.

His arsenal of rusty, notched revolvers and other firearms is much with American history. Through this collection the Fullerton law instructor traces the frontier life—the history of the nation in the making.

Each one of his historic guns has a meaning. Each notch on those rusty irons is as gripping as life and death. Each pistol has a story behind it and Ruby has made it his purpose to learn each one.

Thrilling are his gripping tales of frontier life. They have an authoritative meaning when he spins his yarns of the old western sheriff and the dashing desperado who lived only because of their speed in handling their "smokers."

Then there is his priceless Indian collection. Ancient pottery an archaeologist would be proud of. These museum pieces he treasures highly. Pottery of a long lost race of mankind, and the remnants of their weapons—arrow heads.

While Ruby's collection of Indian relics is one of the most complete privately owned, it is his latest collecting venture that has brought him more enjoyment and recognition than most. He collects autographed photographs of leading national and international figures.

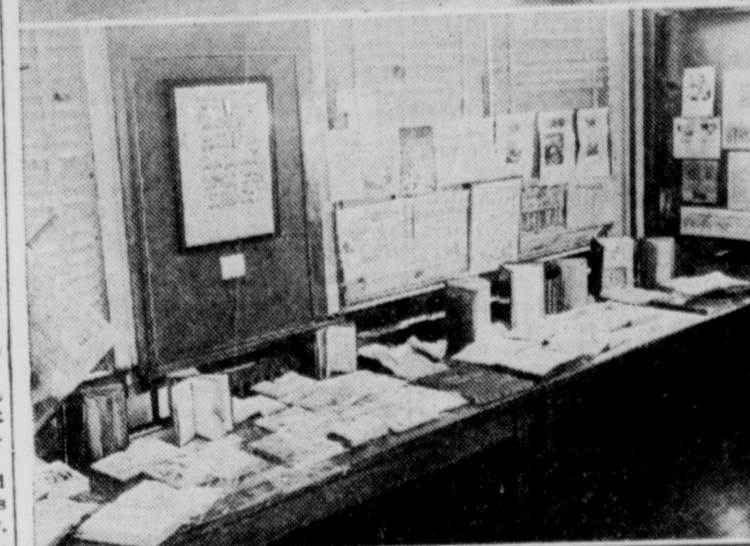

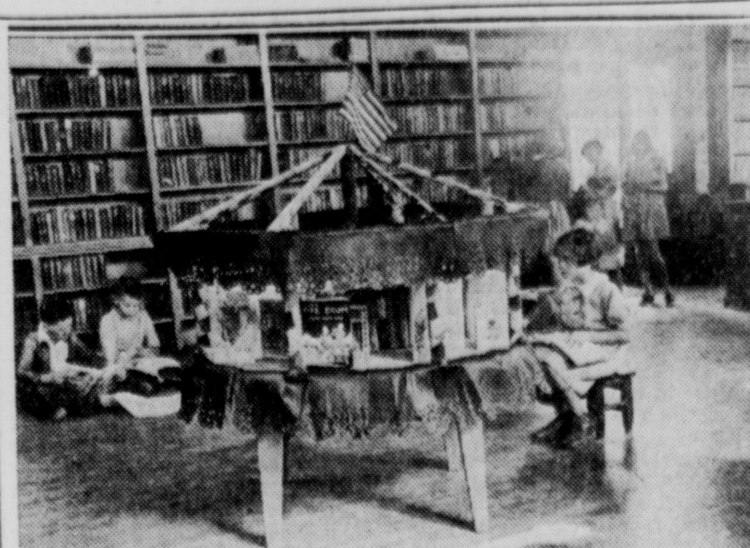

Statesmen, dictators, humanitarians, presidents, celebrities are all found among his treasured collection. And it all started when Herbert Hoover offered Ruby—then a Stanford student—one of his personally autographed photos. Ironically, Franklin D. Roosevelt sent the Fullerton professor a couple of his pictures while he was running against Hoover in 1932.

Henry Ford, Benito Mussolini, His Late Majesty King George, Andrew Mellon and countless others of the really great men of the day have paused a moment to scratch their autographs on one of their photos and send it along to Charles L. Ruby at Fullerton. There is a lot of money tied up in those collections. He was even offered a car for Henry Ford's autographed picture. Naturally he refused. None of his collections is for sale.

Right now he has a new hobby. He is collecting parcels of Orange county land. Yes, he is in the landlord class and adds to another personal collection on the first of every month.

LATHROP LIBRARY ACTIVITIES

Members of the Junior Literary club had charge of Book Week activities at Julia Lathrop Junior High school. Upper picture is a corner of the library that is most popular with the students. Below is a portion of the exhibit arranged for Book Week.

BOOKS OF YESTERDAY ARE STILL TODAY'S FAVORITES

That the books which were the favorites of the children of yesterday are still the favorites of the children of today is the indication of the book poll just taken at the Lathrop Branch Library.

More than 800 young people voted for 236 different books but 59 were agreed that "Black Beauty" was the best. Next in order of choice came "Doctor Doolittle" with 36; "Heidi" with 31, and "Tom Sawyer" 31.

Other books receiving ten or more votes were "Silver Chiff," "Pinocchio," "Little Women," "Bible," "Mark Twain," "The Good Master," "Call of the Wild" and "Ramon." The poll was conducted as a part of the book week activities centered in the Lathrop library, and was in charge of members of the Junior Literary club, an organization sponsored by Miss Leta Blythe and Miss Leona Calkins, and devoted to encouraging the love of good books.

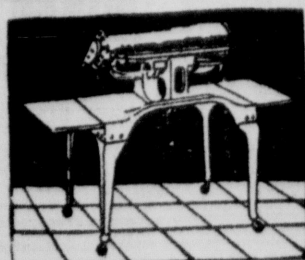

DINNER PARTY HELD

HORTON'S

MAIN ST.
at SIXTHSELF-INVITED
HOTEL PATRON
DEPARTS CITY

That man, Lloyd Allen Snow, who, yesterday afternoon, became the honored and only guest of the Iris hotel on Surgeon street between Third and Fourth streets, self-invited and non-paying, was on his way to parts unknown today. Or should be if he accepted the wise suggestion of Officers Hunter Leach and J. W. Foster. Santa Ana police.

An Iris hotel bedroom floor, unoccupied now that it is being improved and decorated along with the rest of the building, was scene of Snow's "slumber party." He had curled up in a convenient corner. Arriving upon the scene at request of Tarver Montgomery, building owner, the officers were forced to go through a practice session of calisthenics and a minor noise-making "Mac II Grass", to arouse the stranger from his sweet dream of peace.

They gave Snow one hour to "melt" out of town.

ACCOUNTING OFFICE
OPENED IN ORANGE
BY IVAN SWANGER

Ivan H. Swanger, certified public accountant, today announced the opening of his office at 501 West Palm street, in Orange. Swanger passed the state examination to practice as a certified public accountant in 1932. He is a member of the California State Society of Public Accountants, and has been admitted to practice before the Treasury department.

After attending Santa Ana High school, Swanger went to southwestern university and to the Metropolitan College of the University of Southern California. His studies in each of the two latter institutions were concentrated on the procedure and technique of his chosen profession.

For one year Swanger was connected with the auditing department of the Los Angeles Times. Following this, he spent two years in the same department of the Los Angeles Examiner. In 1927, Swanger became affiliated with Great Western Cording, Inc., and has been secretary-treasurer of that corporation since its incorporation. He is also a member of its board of directors. His scope with this company has included complete supervision over the accounting and cost departments as well as devotion of considerable time to matters of corporate finance.

YSMAEL SEEKS
GOAT-GETTER

The fellow Ysmael Esqueda said got his goat almost a year ago was being sought by city police today.

Esqueda, who lives on East Emmett street, reported to police Saturday night, he found his goat, a billy, at 606 Adams street, and proved it was his goat by calling in a former owner agreed he has sold Esqueda the billy goat found at 606 Adams street.

Members of the Gomez family, who live at the Adams street place, didn't know the name of the man who had parked the goat there, they said, but agreed he would probably show up later to claim it. Poundmaster H. D. Pickering was called in and he got the goat. Officers W. E. B. Sherwood and W. H. Heard said that as soon as the true and legal ownership is established, the owner will get his goat again.

RANDALL HOME IS
SCENE OF WEDDING

LA HABRA, Nov. 30.—The H. A. Randall home was the scene of a pretty wedding recently when Mrs. Roscoe Hill of Oregon, a cousin of Mrs. Randall, and W. J. S. Browne of Chula Vista were married. The Rev. Sedgwick, an old family friend read the ceremony and Mrs. G. E. Sutton of La Habra played the wedding march. The bride was given in marriage by her son, Kenneth Holloway.

A wine shade flat crepe dress was chosen by the bride for her wedding which she wore with black and silver accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. Following the ceremony the couple left for Lake Arrowhead where they will spend their honeymoon. They will make their home in Chula Vista.

Thirty-six close friends witnessed the ceremony and at the close the three tiered wedding cake, ice cream and coffee were served.

PLAYERS' NEW PRODUCTION IS EASY TO STAGE

BY ELEANOR ELLIOTT
There is usually a certain amount of news interest in preparation for a Community play, today declared Mrs. Robert Horn, publicity chairman for the Players' association, in discussing preparations to present Elmer Rice's "Judgment Day" on the nights of December 9 to 12. "In the whole of the approaching play, something of the order of the man biting the dog, for the news lies in the fact that these committees are not doing any work."

This situation arises, according to Mrs. Horn, in the fact that "Judgment Day" will be presented in the council chamber of the city hall, so scenery and property committees have no duties. The action of the play is in the present and it is almost an entirely masculine cast, so the costume committee has no need of working, and finally, because of the intimate contact between players and audience in the city hall setting, even the make-up committee will not need to function, since any make-up will necessarily be of the simplest and most inconspicuous.

But if these various groups and the technical director, Mrs. Marshall Harnois, are relaxing for this one production, the dramatic director, Gladys Simpson Shafer, is making up for it. "Judgment Day" presents more difficulties than any play she has ever directed, she declares. The large cast increases the work, and since all the dramatic possibilities within the play must be developed, it is requiring nightly rehearsals in preparation for the event itself. An individual member of the cast may be absent from a general rehearsal without upsetting the routine too much, but the director has to be present every minute of every rehearsal.

Two association members who long have been prominent in the technical side of play producing, Victor Morrison, stage carpenter, and Northrup Ellis, stage electrician, relieved of any duties such as they usually have with a production, are assisting in dramatic work. They have taken two of the minor roles as guards, so will have part in a Community play as usual.

Although the majority of rehearsals are being held according to usual custom, with Mrs. Charles A. Riggs, 301 Spurgeon street, assembled in the city hall. The Players have been impressed by the dignified beauty of the surroundings, and have expressed appreciation of the council's cooperation in placing the room at their disposal. They declare that it provides exactly the right atmosphere for the stirring and dramatic action of "Judgment Day."

Two more rehearsals will be staged there, one next Wednesday night, and the other on the Tuesday night before the production opens.

Leprosy in Hawaii has steadily decreased in the last 40 years, and has decreased 50 per cent in the last four years.

PET TALKS
By MRS. T. J. NEAL

It has been proven by scientific tests that carrots will not digest in the stomach of a dog.

It is strange that not once in the Bible are cats ever mentioned, yet the people of Egypt were great lovers of cats. Dogs are spoken of and it is said that had Jesus owned a dog it most probably would have been a Saluki, a breed well known in Biblical times.

Some dogs have the bad habit of chasing cars. Eventually most of them come to a sad ending. There is an apparatus on the market now, to attach to the collar of the dog, which soon breaks him of this dangerous and annoying habit.

Chows seem to be the only breed that are victims of inverted eyelids. The reason is not known. And the strange thing is that the Oriental human race is subject to this same condition. Chows have their origin in China.

Sulphur will not prevent mites in a canary cage. So often we hear, "Oh, my bird can't possibly have mites, I have a sulphur bag hanging in the cage all the time." Examine that sulphur bag and you will find mites breeding in the folds. It's an old-fashioned idea that doesn't work. Rid your bird and cage of mites in the modern way.

Germany has produced a short-haired dog known as the Drathar or "Everyday Dog." This breed is being heralded as an all-around dog which can do anything that the Setter, the Pointer, the Springer and the Cocker combined can do. He is an excellent water dog, does well in pointing feathered game and is usable for all-around game work in either a wet or dry country. He will be welcome to the hunters of Southern California where it is difficult for our bird dogs to find quail in such dry, brushy country.

Did you ever think of the immense joy shown by a bird dog eager to go hunting with his master.

Christian Science

The Christian Science Lesson-Sermon on Sunday denounced ancient and modern necromancy, alias mesmerism and hypnotism. The same Lesson-Sermon was presented in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Lesson-Sermon included Paul's words to the Ephesians: Finally my brethren be strong in the Lord and in the power of his might. Put on the whole armour of God that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness. Above all, taking the shield of faith wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.

Among the passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy were these: "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil. Clad in the panoply of Love, human hatred cannot reach you."

Only eight persons were killed in train accidents in England during 1931.

SEAL EMBLEM
COPYRIGHTED
BY T. B. GROUP

The red, double-barred cross, the copyrighted emblem of the National Tuberculosis Association, appears on every Christmas Seal, according to W. H. Hodgkin, Berkeley, treasurer of the California Tuberculosis association. Dr. Hodgkin, in an announcement made yesterday, concerning the annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas Seals now in progress, stated:

"The double-barred cross is the international emblem of tuberculosis work. In the United States, the cross is the copyrighted property of the National Tuberculosis association and may not be used in this state except on the expressed permission of the representative director of the National Tuberculosis association for California. In this way, misuse of the emblem is prevented.

"The cross, when printed in color, is always red. This symbol will be found on each Christmas Seal, on the letters and literature of the tuberculosis association, and on the Christmas Seals and literature issued by more than 40 foreign tuberculosis associations who are joined with us in the International Union Against Tuberculosis."

Dr. Hodgkin pointed out that everyone receiving Christmas Seals through the mail can be sure that they are genuine and that the funds received for them will be used for tuberculosis prevention work under the direction of the state and local tuberculosis associations by looking for the double-barred cross which is printed on each seal. The letter accompanying the Christmas Seal will also bear either the double-barred cross or a picture of the seal.

"All money raised through the sale of Christmas Seals is carefully accounted for and its use during the following year for tuberculosis prevention is decided by volunteer boards of public spirited citizens," Dr. Hodgkin stated. "Local, city and county tuberculosis associations are always glad to furnish any desired information regarding the handling and distribution of the money raised through Christmas Seal Sale."

The Mixing Bowl

By Ann Meredith

First impressions of your home depend so much on the appearance of the hallway. Particularly in this true of the small apartment where hallways are apt to be small and starkly cold and plain. No doubt you have a hall mirror and the small table that goes with it, like cream with coffee. So far, so good. Now, tie your self downtown and buy two small ornamental iron brackets, each holding a small flower pot. I hold a small flower pot, maybe, depending on the light in the hallway. The colors might be a Chinese yellow or red, glossy black or oyster white. Fill the pots with well rooted ivy plants, placing the brackets slightly away from the mirror frame for best effect. The ivy grows excellently, even in a hallway, if the pots are taken down once a week and the ivy sponged in cold fresh water. There is an exquisite parti-colored variety you should look at (at the florist's) before you decide on the plain green out-of-doors ivy, lovely as it is.

Dessert Waffles
Add a cup of well crushed walnuts to ordinary waffle batter. Bake and serve in quarters with a strawberry jam and whipped cream, when dinner is a bit "lucky."

Cheese Pudding
4 slices of white bread
1-2 pound yellow cheese
2 eggs
2 cups rich milk
1-8 teaspoon dry mustard
1-2 teaspoon sugar
1-2 teaspoon each, salt and pepper

Butter for bread.
For this pudding, which you will serve as the main dish of the meal, you will need a flat and wide casserole. There must be a lot of crusty brown top, enough for everybody. So, butter the dish, dust the slices, spread with butter, cut bread in squares and alternate bread and grated cheese in building this dish. Add all seasonings to the eggs, whip them to a thick froth, add warmed milk and pour over the bread and cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes. Watch that the heat does not curdle eggs and cheese (too much heat for too long a time, I mean). Serve this excellent dish with a crisp green salad, one cooked green vegetable, and a dessert of fresh fruit, sherbet or ice cream. The dish serves six.

A Fruit Salad With A Cream Cheese Dressing

1 head lettuce, separated and crisped
1 can sliced pineapple
2 small fresh grapefruit, peeled and sliced
3 oranges peeled and left in whole sections
6 canned peaches
3 ripe summer apples
2 packages of creamy cheese (neufchatel style cheese)
Juice of 2 lemons and some pineapple juice
Salt and white pepper, sparingly.
Peel the grapefruit just as you would an apple, then cut in thin slices. Peel and slice the apples and put them with the grapefruit to chill and stay white. Oranges and pineapple must be prepared, diced and chilled. Build the salads (6 of them) on chilled plates and dress with the cheese mashed and whipped to a thick cream with lemon and pineapple juice.

For Sunday night supper, with rolls and coffee it would be hard to add anything to this cold meal that would further improve it.

Today, we offer you a copy of the big Calory List, but in exchange we ask that you send us (with your stamped, self-addressed envelope) a copy of one of your best recipes, for our Contributors' Day page.

CHIEF OF POLICE ASKED TO LOCATE MISSING CANADIAN

ORANGE, Nov. 30. — A story of a misunderstanding which separated a father from his young son and the rest of his family, came to light here Saturday when Chief of Police George H. Franzen received a letter from Mrs. Frank Marks, Turner Valley, Alberta, Canada, who begs the chief to try to locate her step-father and tell him that his son is critically ill. Mrs. Marks does not state why she believes her father to be in this vicinity or how long he has been gone, but it is evident that it has been for some time.

The letter begins tersely: "Chief of Police, Dear Sir, My step father, Earl Monroe Johnson. He is about six feet tall, broad shoulders, brown eyes, black hair—it will be grey now, I think he is 48 years old or about that. Would you kindly look for him and if you find him tell him we are all homesick for him—and that Junior is not expected to live. Tell him to come home as soon as possible."

A note is enclosed for the father which runs: "Daddy, this is from Gayle. I am now Mrs. Frank Marks. If you can come, come to Calgary and write to Turner Valley and we will meet you, Daddy, please come home! We all love you and Junior is so awful sick."

Mrs. Marks in the letter urges the chief to let her know if he finds Johnson no matter what is wrong, if anything should be wrong.

Adele Danton, Julia Campbell and Miss Belle Handley.

484 Sea Scouts Attend Annual Newport Rally

FOUR STATES, HAWAII ARE REPRESENTED

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 30.—With a short, stirring address by C. J. Carlson, regional executive of Region 12, comprising California, Nevada, Utah, Arizona and Hawaii, the three-day Sea Scout Rendezvous held here came to a close. This year's event far surpassed the record set last year of 275 Sea Scouts and officers as 484 Sea Scouts and 41 officers and executives, a total of 525, registered.

The rendezvous was held in the public camp ground at Newport Beach, a most ideal site and location for the event as it provides all of the equipment and facilities necessary for a successful Sea Scout gathering. The three-day program was complete in every respect and included competitive and social events as well as an inspection of scouts and their equipment by Governor Merriam and their participation in the ceremonies attending the opening of the new local overhead crossing.

In the competitive events the program included cutter, sailing, rowing and swimming races and heavy life ring. Placing in the rowing events gave each competing ship a certain number of points and after all events had been run off Sea Scout Ship 2, the "Mariner" of Crescent Bay council had collected a total of 491 points, the greatest number of any competing ship. Second place honors went to Ship 69, the "Gavilan" of Monterey Bay with 435 points to its credit. Ship 16, "Islander" of the Crescent Bay council placed third with 433 points while fourth place went to Ship 52, the "Pinta" from Beverly Hills.

Young Bob Hill Jr., of the "Mariner," won the life ring throwing contest while his outfit won first in the row boat sailing event. First place in the snowbird sailing event went to the "Islander," second to Ship 114, "Alamitos" of Long Beach and third to Ship 21, "Sea Lion" from San Luis Obispo.

In the swimming event which included individual and team events the "Pinta" took top honors followed, as listed, by "Islander" and "Gavilan".

Though they did not collect enough points to be in the final running the Sea Scouts from Capt. F. E. Lewis's M. S. "Stranger" which permanently berths at Newport Beach, were allowed by Capt. Lewis to enter the competitive events as a body and at all times set up stiff competition for the other Sea Scouts.

Coming a distance of approximately 800 miles, the Salt Lake City, Utah, scouts were awarded a pennant for those coming the longest distance to attend the rendezvous. Ship 52, the "Pinta" from Beverly Hills was awarded the pennant denoting the ship having the largest attendance of scouts, officers and committeemen.

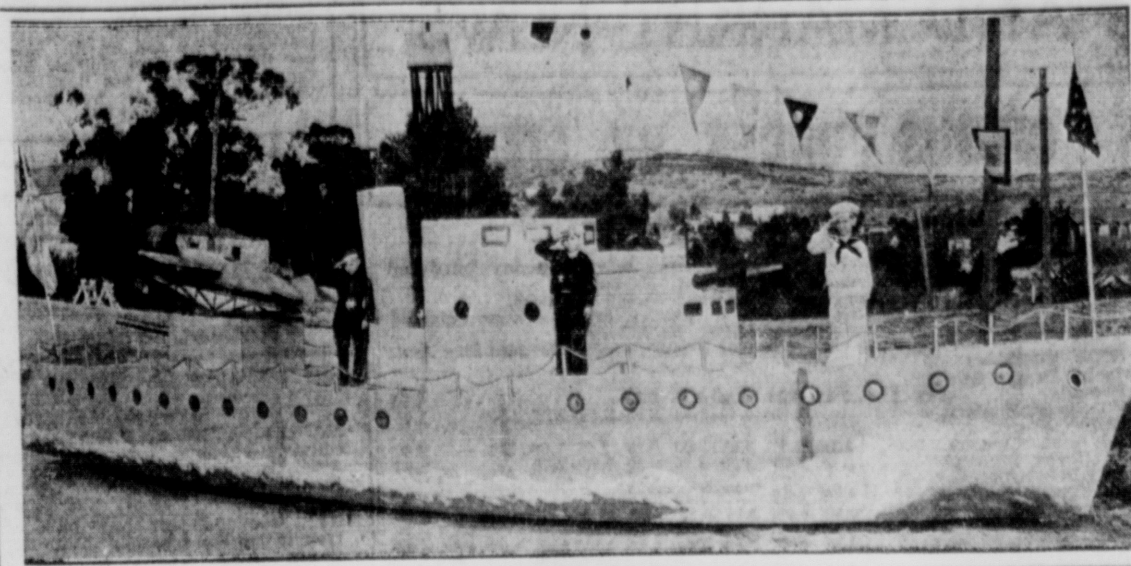

C. J. Carlson served as regional executive and chairman of the event and was assisted by Fred Bosbyshell, regional commodore, Harrison E. White of Santa Ana, Bob Hill in charge of the program, Edward Giest in charge of the commissary, George Burgrum in charge of photography, John Leeling and C. L. Appling, the latter in charge of registration.

The social side of the rendezvous included a dance at the pavilion at Balboa on Friday night and a series of campfires and bull sessions on the beach along the bay front on Saturday night.

All of the officers and executives were enthusiastic in praising the Newport Beach city officials for their most evident willingness to cooperate and before the Sea Scouts left for their respective homes plans were laid to hold the 1937 rendezvous at Newport Beach at approximately the same time as this year's event.

LAGUNA PLANS TOURNAMENT FLOAT

Although closely guarding details of the project members of American Legion Post No. 222, Laguna Beach have admitted that they will have a float in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses. Below is the latest creation by the post, the "S. S. Laguna" entered in the Santa Ana Armistice Day parade in Santa Ana.

REBEKAHS SEE AUXILIARY TO HEALTH FILM OFFER ANNUAL CARNIVAL FETE

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 30.—The latest in sound film on the subject of Tuberculosis, "Behind the Shadows," was presented with an informative talk by Mrs. Edna Hewitt Smith, executive secretary of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health Association, at the recent meeting of Rebekah lodge at Westminster. The object of the new method of tuberculosis cure, that of a complete rest, instead of confining the patient to bed for a bodily rest, as formerly, was stressed by the speaker, who urged examinations to check the disease in its early stage.

The film showing followed potluck supper by the Aloha Rebekah, attended by 30 people. Visitors from the Long Beach lodges attended.

The next meeting of the Aloha lodge will be "Noble Grands" night, with officers of other lodges in the district attending as guests. Mrs. Evelyn Wardlow was appointed chairman of the refreshment committee; Mrs. Cordelia Slate of the program committee, and Mrs. Frankie Van Uden of the decoration committee.

STREET PROJECT STARTS
PLACENTIA, Nov. 30.—Work started yesterday on a program under WPA in Placentia for widening of streets, oiling of alleys, and improvements of sidewalks. Public monies for the work will come from the city's share of the gas tax money.

The work will include improving of many strips of sidewalk, and of widening of Santa Fe avenue, as a start to providing a wide highway as properties can be changed to fit the program.

LAGUNA PLANS PARADE ENTRY

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 30.—Although details are being kept under a closely guarded secret it is understood that American Legion Post 222, of Laguna Beach, will be again represented at the Pasadena Rose Tournament on New Year's Day by a float, outstanding in type.

Last year's entry won special first prize in its class, depicting fresh flowers the then recently deceased Will Rogers. Widely reproduced in the public press and in film newscasts, the Rogers float gained much mention.

More recently, on Armistice Day, at the celebration held in Santa Ana, the Legion's float, "S. S. Laguna" likewise came in for much acclaim. Depicting a torpedo destroyer, "manner" by an attractive juvenile crew, and decorated with official hunting, the "S. S. Laguna" bravely sailed along the line of march.

Food collected at this event, augmented by cash donations by the two sponsoring organizations, the city council, Woman's club, and other civic organizations will be used to fill Christmas baskets for all needy families in the community, Mrs. Moffitt says. The Christmas project, supported by the community is for the community only. Is for the community only. Is for the community only. Is for the community only.

Seven dance numbers will be presented by pupils of the Mary Jane Cummins dance school of Buena Park, and Miss Cummins. They are: soft shoe dance, Mary Lou Mennies, Betty Jane Humbert; Bye-Bye-Blues, Mary Jane Cummins; Japanese Sandman, Corine Hiltche; Dinah, Betty Jane Humbert; Darkness on the Delta, Lorraine Dillon; Let Yourself Go, Mary Lou Mennies; Slow Rhythm dance, Mary Jane Cummins.

Just before the one-act comedy, "The First Dress Suit" by Russell Medcraft, a boys' quartet will sing "Without a Song," arranged by Stickles, and "Who Did?" by Frederick. Members of the cast of the play are the Delta, Lorraine Dillon; Veronica Gilmore, Teddy Harding; June Kinsinger, Betty Harding; Arl McCormick, Johnny Drake.

REVEAL PLANS TO DECORATE BUSINESS AREA

LA HABRA, Nov. 30.—Plans were announced by the committee from the Business Men's club and passed at their recent meeting for the decoration of the downtown area during the Christmas holidays. The committee reported sufficient funds in sight for decoration of the light standards and to provide for visits from Santa Claus to the various stores the week before Christmas. A large Christmas tree is to be decorated and mounted on a truck from which Santa will distribute toys and candies to the children, one evening just before Christmas. At this time a program will also be given for the enjoyment of all.

No street lighting will be attempted other than that regularly installed, but merchants are planning the decoration and illumination of their stores. Other features for the community holiday festivities will be worked out at a dinner meeting of the club on December 8th.

Other business of the meeting recently held included a discussion of the telephone service in La Habra and some dissatisfaction was voiced concerning the long distance calls when a Whittier number must be called. M. E. Earhart was appointed to take the matter up with the telephone company.

MEN, WOMEN, DOGS JOIN IN LAGUNA'S STAR FISH HUNT

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 30.—Nearly three hundred men, women and children, to say nothing of countless mutt pups, joined in the widely-heralded starfish hunt held in Laguna Beach on Saturday. Commencing at noon, the hunt continued until past sundown; and it was estimated that over six thousand starfish met death at the hands of the Nimrods, who, armed with lengths of sharpened pipe and other harpoon-like instruments, dealt destruction to the echinoderms, over a ton of which accumulated during the day.

Sponsored by Don Wilkie, not-4 investigator and Joseph Skidmore, realtor of Arch Beach, the hunt was a successful one. The hunters were motley, and from all points of the coastline and interior. Wide publicity given in the press attracted folk from Santa Barbara to San Diego. Fishermen, professional men, a couple of bankers, and numerous scientists from U. S. C. U. C. L. A. and Pomona college, who later institution has a biological laboratory in Laguna, joined in the afternoon's proceedings. R. DeVillibus and Douglas Pierce assistants on the staff of the Zoological department of U. S. C. secured several scores of fine specimens of starfish, preserved alive as specimens, and also two young octopi.

Sporadic hunting continued yesterday, and will wind up today, the "mop-up" squads" taking advantage of a three-day session of exceptionally low tides. Newsreel cameramen from several companies made pictures of Saturday's mass attack which Messrs. Wilkie and Joe Skidmore enthusiastically declared a perfect success, except from the point of view—if any—of the starfish family.

Other business of the meeting recently held included a discussion of the telephone service in La Habra and some dissatisfaction was voiced concerning the long distance calls when a Whittier number must be called. M. E. Earhart was appointed to take the matter up with the telephone company.

HALF-ACRE IN EDEN

BEGIN HERE TODAY
MARCIA CANFIELD, daughter of wealthy PHILIP CANFIELD, knows the neighborhood is buzzing over the sudden disappearance of PHILIP'S ESTATE. PHILIP'S ESTATE, whose engagement to Marcia has been announced, has been discovered. With her friend, HELEN WARD, PHILIP'S ESTATE, who is in a restaurant when a hold-up occurred, Marcia loses a ring that was her mother's.

Learning Frank is in Chicago, Marcia goes there to try to persuade him to return and face his financial obligations. Before she reaches him, Frank disappears again.

In Chicago, she encounters HELEN WARD, a stranger, who volunteers a slight service. Marcia is also a passenger on the plane. Marcia takes to return home. A few weeks later she sees him again. Bruce, an article has decided to make his home in the suburb.

Meanwhile, TONY STELLICI, restaurant chef, suspects his brother, CARLO, of being involved in the hold-up and disappearance of the lost in Carlo's home. He returns Marcia's ring.

Marcia stops at the Stellici home with a public welfare nurse and interrupts a conversation between Tony and Carlo. Tony leaves Marcia alone with Carlo, who sees the ring on Marcia's hand. Carlo knows that the ring can convict him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XVI
BOTH Marcia Canfield and Carlo Stellici, waiting in the shabby kitchen while Tony carried hot water to the nurse attending his father upstairs, knew fear in those silent minutes.

Carlo was the fear of guilt. Marcia's, the fear that came with sudden realization that an armed and cornered man faced her. There was a fascination in the thought; she looked at him curiously.

The man did not meet her gaze. Lighting a cigarette, he turned and stared out the window, trying to force his slow mind over possible escapes.

Yet all mental maneuvering was in vain; he knew that he was encouraging a futile hope. It flickered and died off chance he tried to let it into reality.

"What are you going to do?" he asked, with a ghostly show of sudden penitence as he sought another avenue.

MARCIA considered him, considered the sick man upstairs and his other son. She thought of the robbery of the Dog Wagon when this man, it was now clear, had somehow assisted the actual bandits, and of the loss of her mother's ring, by odd chance returned. She thought of the stripping of her own home on Christmas afternoon, of the audacious holdup of the benefit bridge party at which a hundred women of the town had lost all the jewelry they wore.

"What can we do," she demanded, "but tell the police? You have been robbing the town right and

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—(UP)—Selective buying and selling brought irregularity into the stock market today.

Trading volume lightened although the total was sufficient to bring the month's transactions to 50,000,000 shares, the largest for any month since March.

Heaviest trading was in the low-price market. General Electric, which made a new high at 24 1/2 up 1/2. Next came U. S. Realty which touched a new top at 12 1/2 up 1/2. Heavy trading also was noted in Texas Gulf Products, General Realty, American Radiator, and United Fruit.

The so-called inactive (issues traded in 10-share lots) had relatively little movement. G. K. Kinney, preferred, one of these, reached 61 up 1/2 points. Its common stock, traded in 100-share lots rose 1 point. Some of the preferred issues in the active list had wide swings. International Agricultural, rated 35 1/2 points to a new high at 41 1/2, while Associated Dry Goods second preferred lost 4 points to 12 1/2.

Other special issues to register gains included California Packing which touched 42 1/2 up 1/2; Gillette 17 1/2 up 1/2; Pittsburgh Coal 14 1/2 up 1/2; and the preferred of U. S. Steel, which rose 1/2 point to 10 1/2. Sugar, May, Stern touched 106 1/2 up 1/2 and then regained more than half of the loss. Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck rallied from their lows.

ARE WE DONE WITH DEMOCRACY?

This subject is to be discussed tonight in a lecture by Homer Chaney at the Federal lecture course in the high school.

Whether or not we are done with democracy, depends entirely upon the definition and the meaning of democracy.

In a very interesting syndicated article in the subject, "This Democracy", Walter Jipmann points out that the framers of the Constitution realized the dangers of transient majorities. They therefore set up the Constitution limiting the rights of the transient majorities to control the minorities.

He says, "It" (referring to the famous system of checks and balances), "is based on the refusal to believe that a true democracy means the dictatorship of transient pluralities".

If democracy, meaning the voting majority, is granted the authority to take away from the minority certain inalienable rights, then we undoubtedly will sooner or later be through with democracies.

The great Spanish historian, Ortega Y Gasset, in his famous book, "The Revolt of the Masses", written in 1930, makes this statement on the effect of mass-man. He says, "If that human type continues to master of Europe, thirty years will suffice to send our continent back to barbarism."

Remember, this was written six years ago by a Spaniard who was an educator and a member of the legislature under the Spanish democracy, or republic.

Likewise, the German statesman, Spengler, said in 1933, "We are passing through a century of anarchy and the worst decades are just setting in upon us. It is doubtful whether by the middle of this century we will be able to recognize any of the governments in their present form."

Our idea of democracy is not that the voting majority has a right to decide all things but it has a right to decide certain things, certain questions of human conduct. We believe true democracy consists in the voting majority having the right to decide how much work any man may do or how much he may accomplish but the voting majority has the right definitely to decide how much any individual may consume for his personal use. This is our idea of the kind of democracy for which we are striving.

Instead of the voting majority trying to bring about a higher standard of living by its method of limiting undemocratic consumption, they have short-sightedly and impractically assumed unto themselves the right to determine how much wealth an individual has a right to produce and to use in producing more wealth, and even now, certain groups are advocating limiting, by law, the number of hours an individual may work, determining this important human right by the voting majority. If this is not democracy means and if the people insist that the minorities must be so controlled by the majorities, then as Ortega Gasset, Spengler and Gibbon well pointed out, it will destroy itself and we will be reduced to poverty, misery and suffering.

On the other hand, if democracy means that the welfare of everyone is to be considered and that the minorities have no right appropriate to their own personal use of quantities of wealth and are allowed to use their initiative and enterprise without restriction so long as they produce wealth needed by the great mass of mankind, then democracy is exactly what we want. We must understand what we mean by the word "democracy" if we are to discuss intelligently.

INVESTMENT PER WORKER

In B. C. Forbes' column, he points out the necessity of employers bringing information to the employees so that the employees may better understand what enables them to earn good wages.

Mr. Forbes commends a booklet just issued by the General Mills, Inc., explaining to the workers what was back of their jobs. This little booklet reveals the amount of capital back of each employee. On the head of two pages is printed, "This is your ownance sheet" (referring to the workers), shows that for each worker in the plant there is $3,239.34 invested in plants; that there is due from customers from each worker $1,338.54; that in the bank is $37.08 for supplies and materials; $2,382 in investments; prepaid expenses, $342.56; for goodwill trademarks, power rights (worth a lot but who can say how much?), $500; making a total investment for each worker of $8,904.34.

This very aptly shows the investment, for modern times, required to produce a standard of living American citizens enjoy. Ninety years ago the balance sheet showed only a few hundred dollars. It supported a dozen struggling men. Forty years ago it totaled a few hundred thousand and supported a few hundred men. Judged by present standard of today those few hundred were relatively poor, but they were many times richer than their fathers. Today the least of these workers has more of most everything than the best had even ninety-five years ago.

If there is any better way of making good high for all workers than having good tools, good equipment and good materials with which to work, we have never had it. We wish it were possible to have a high standard of living without the necessity of sacrificing present needs in order to have capital to raise the standard of living in the future.

TWELVE GREATEST AMERICAN INVENTORS

At a banquet in Washington where the hundredth anniversary of the American patent system was celebrated, the twelve greatest American inventors were selected. They were as follows:

ROBERT FULTON, steamboat.
ELI WHITNEY, cotton gin.
SAMUEL F. B. MORSE, telegraph.
CHARLES GOODYEAR, vulcanized rubber.

CYRUS HALL MCCORMICK, grain reaper.

ELIAS HOWE, sewing machine.
GEORGE WESTINGHOUSE, air brake.
ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL, telephone.

THOMAS ALVA EDISON, electric lamp, phonograph, motion pictures and many other devices.

OTTMAR MERGENTHALER, linotype.
CHARLES MARTIN HALL, process for making cheap aluminum.

WILBUR WRIGHT, co-inventor with his brother Orville of the airplane.

The list was chosen by secret committee of prominent men.

Every citizen not only of the United States but practically of the world has been greatly benefited because of the active minds of these men. They have greatly contributed to the standard of living of humanity as a whole. Our government has seen fit to give patents to men of this type to encourage initiative and the production of wealth. In so doing we have greatly stimulated initiative and benefited society. May the work continue and the list grow!

WORTHY LEADER

It begins to look as if the American Legion got a first-rate national commander for itself when it elected Harry W. Colmery to that office.

Commander Colmery's recent remarks about free speech and the essence of Americanism were statesmanlike in the best sense of the word.

The campaign for Americanism, he points out, is a worthy endeavor and deserves the best efforts of the men who wore their country's uniform into battle; but to try to advance it by denying free utterance to individuals or groups is to go directly against its best traditions.

Under a leader who takes such a broad-gauge view of things, the Legion may be expected to make its Americanism campaign more genuinely effective than ever before.

Without implying the slightest criticism of any past commanders, it may be said that the Legion today has a leader worthy of its own ideals.

PRIEST'S PROMISE

Early this last summer Father Charles E. Coughlin told newspaper reporters that if the Lemke ticket failed to poll 9,000,000 votes he—Coughlin—would go off the air.

A few days before the election he slid out from under that statement by remarking that it had been made on the assumption that Lemke would get on the ballot in all 48 states. Since he did not, said Coughlin, the stuff was off.

As one studies the election returns, however, one must admit that it would have made precious little difference. That prediction of 9,000,000 votes must stand as one of the wildest pipe dreams in the history of American politics. Lemke not only didn't come close; he didn't even make a race of it.

And so—well, if the reverend gentleman from Detroit would care to consider himself morally bound by that summer statement . . .

'JEAN VALJEANS'

If Solomon were living today, he would probably find himself appointed sole arbiter of "modern Jean Valjean" cases, while those of mixed babies would be given to lesser legal lights.

For the Valjean problems seem to be among the knottiest with which the forces of justice have to grapple nowadays. Their pattern is similar. Imprisoned for a minor offense, a man escapes jail, builds an honest career, and then is found out.

The dilemma that arises is formidable. If the man is returned to jail, the disgrace may blight his life. If not, his debt to society will remain unpaid, and a bad precedent is created.

The solution is not made easier by pleas of the man's friends and business acquaintances.

To the authorities who have to handle such cases, the thought must come that Solomon had something of a sinecure.

ANOTHER "HOT" SUBJECT

Tomorrow night the Forum for Political and Economic Education will discuss a subject that is of especial interest to every citizen of Southern California. It is the question of prorate. The question is: "Resolved, that the prorate is class legislation and not to public interest."

Whether or not one is directly affected, it is of the utmost importance that the public become intelligently informed on this subject. It will be discussed by competent speakers on both sides.

"HE'S GOOD ENOUGH FOR ME!"

General HUGH S. JOHNSON

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Are the boys who were so vociferous in saying "NRA hamstringing the little fellow," surprised to see the National Retail Dry Goods Association—the biggest little fellow organization in the country—resigning from the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and striking out for a new and "voluntary" NRA containing all the principal Blue Eagle code provisions? Its "voluntary" nature is qualified by the accompanying suggestion that the Blue Eagle provisions be enforced by state statutes of which it suggests a model.

Are they surprised? Not a bit of it. That particular tom-tom beating was incited by people who knew it was not true. They were exactly like the walrus and the carpenter who took the little oysters for a one-way walk.

All the tears for the little fellow were started by the big fellow: "I weep for you, the walrus said. I deeply sympathize. With sobs and tears he sorted out Those of the largest size."

If something of the NRA idea isn't started soon, the last verse will also be appropriate: "O oysters, said the carpenter, You've had a pleasant run! Shall we be trotting home again? But answer came there none—And this was scarcely odd, because They'd eaten every one."

About no political subject of our time has there grown up such a massive mythology as about NRA. In a recent readable book about the Supreme Court by a couple of as able laymen, "The Supreme Court: A History of the Institution," there are an even dozen dogmatic assertions about NRA's inception and fall—not one of which is true. It would not be worth while mentioning, if it were not that the old blue hawk is rustling so restlessly among his chicken-garnished garbage. Can he flutter it off and rise again?

Not in any form that his faithful friends would recognize. There is such a thing as too much dirt—too much treachery—too much vilification for anything to survive. The emaciated wrecking crew which conspired to paralyze NRA—under whose inept and purposeless hands it languished and died—did for it with their own alibis.

But there is a growing groundswell of sentiment for (1) minimum wages and maximum hours (2) against child-labor (3) for collective bargaining (4) for labor organization (5) for independent labor representation and (6) against the continued complete and pitiful failure of the anti-trust laws to prevent the mad rush of manufacture and commerce into colossal groupings, which have become economic governments over the whole people. That up-rush of sentiment was, I think, largely responsible for the Roosevelt avalanche on election day. Here are six definite popular demands, all growing out of the vast educational process of NRA. No matter through what avenues they are attained, if ever, the combination of them will be NRA, the whole of 'NRA, and nothing but NRA.

Can it be done? There are seemingly insurmountable barriers. The greatest is the apparent determination of the Supreme Court that the government cannot regulate in economic fields—except possibly transportation. The short-cut through that would be a constitutional amendment reading: "The Congress shall have the power to regulate commerce, agriculture and labor." But what a tow-rope that would take.

It is just plain tommy-rot to suggest that the desired ends can be attained through state action, state compacts, or industrial agreements in which there are no sanctions against violators. There was one truth fully developed in NRA; in any competitive field, the 90 per cent of human decency can always be defeated by the 10 per cent chiseling fringe. If you don't believe that, look at the League of Nations—or the United States under the Articles of Confederation.

Some of these popular demands may half-way, or part-way, be met by voluntary action, or by statutory approximations, or by clever and subtle squirmings through the court. But in the absence of an amendment, it is highly doubtful whether they can all be met without some restriction on the power of a bare majority of the court to veto whatever congress may do, or which they do not approve.

Why should you? pop said, and ma said, Why Willyum such a question.

Meaning she always does, and pop said, I haven't worn a check suit since we were engaged to be married.

You certainly haven't and I know the reason, hee hee, ma said. Meaning herself, and pop said, Well, you were just speaking of expressing myself for Peet sake.

I didn't mention anything about over expression, ma said, and pop said, After all, there are checks and checks. I mean, a mild, repressed check would just about express the way I've felt since I got rid of my lumberago, he said.

Now Willyum I didn't marry a gambler and I'm not going to begin now, ma said. There's just as much room for expression as there ever was among the different shades of plane blue. What time shall I meet you? she said, and pop said, O, some time next week or some time.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

CHALLENGE TO BUSINESS LEADERS

Since 1915, a major interest to which I have given intensive and extensive study has been the role of business leadership in the life and enterprise of the nation.

This interest has been intensified since 1929, and particularly since 1932, when political leadership has been carrying the ball which business leadership should be carrying, the ball which political leadership would not have undertaken to carry had business leadership carried it responsibly through all the years that came to a climax in the collapse of 1929.

It may be that the sweeping character of the recent election will awaken business leadership generally to its larger responsibilities.

Particularly in the newer generation of business leaders now coming into positions of power, I sense a growing realization that the political dominance of private enterprise will grow or lessen in direct proportion to the narrowness or breadth of the business, industrial, and financial policies developed by the leadership of private enterprise.

What business men do in their businesses rather than what they do in political campaigns once every four years will determine the direction we shall take nationally in the next 10 to 20 years.

It is a blunt question of which can best deliver the goods—business leadership or political leadership?

If business leadership does not like to see so much public spending for relief and public works, the answer is for business leadership to solve—as nearly as may be humanly possible—the unemployment problem.

If business leadership does not like an increasing governmental intervention in economic enterprise, the answer is for business leadership to make the impact of private enterprise upon the lives of the millions so satisfactory that nobody can make governmental intervention a popular political issue.

To steal a Rooseveltian phrase, business leaders have a rendezvous with destiny.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

MEDICINE

Medicine is a field for the expert. We insist that the men and women who make it their profession and undergo a long and severe training to insure their understanding of their grave mission. We take their prescriptions, strong in the faith that because these experts have studied long and well and practiced wisely and humanely, they can be trusted with our lives. Medicine holds healing and grief in its pills and powders. If used wisely, and as ordered, the healing is probable but if used unwisely, grief is certain.

There are people who calmly, lightly, buy and administer medicine to children. The druggist said it was good, or the advertisement said so. So the children are dosed thoroughly and habitually. The medicine may be perfectly all right if used discreetly, but how do you know? Medicine is not your field. It is the physician's profession, and he seems to find it about as much as he can manage working with might and mind. How can you be sure that the child needs this treatment, or will benefit in the least by it?

Giving a child a physic is just an ordinary gesture, an item in the daily routine, in some households. It is about the worst practice regarded in the light of the child's health and his mental hygiene, that can be established. The right diet ought to keep the child's internal processes in good working order. If there is any difficulty ask the doctor before administering medicine. If he approves it you are safe and saved from making a sad mistake.

When a child complains of a belly ache—a grinding pain below his belt, don't give him a physic unless the doctor orders it. It may not be an ordinary ache at all, but the symptoms of serious trouble, and a physic might do very grave harm. It is dangerous to administer medicine to a child who is coming down with appendicitis. A grinding pain in the abdomen is one of the symptoms of appendicitis, but it is not the only one, so don't jump at it and take home measures to remedy it. Call the doctor.

Healthy children seldom require medicine, or the attendance of their physician. They can be kept healthy by the right diet, as a usual thing. Plenty of vegetables, cooked fruit, milk, eggs and cheese and butter, in variety of color and flavor and form, will keep a child in good condition. Meat should be used sparingly, and also sweets. Medicine not at all, until the doctor says so.

Winter will soon be here and the medicine bottles are coming out. Winter is supposed to be hard on the health of children. It isn't, provided the children follow a reasonable health routine of sleep, fresh air, exercise, simple food, and warm clothing. Health is not a matter of seasons. It is largely a matter of habit and the good care that sets good habits. Medicine ought to be as rarely used as the fire alarm, and just as cautiously.
